

Week 6

Algae & how fish breathe

Task:

Using the text below, label the diagram showing how photosynthesis occurs.

Plants get energy from the sun or bright lights, like the ones you have in your aquarium.

Plants take carbon dioxide that the fish breathe out and use water to make oxygen. The same process happens in trees. This process of making energy and oxygen from sunlight has a specific name, that name is photosynthesis.

